Plans Are Completed For Commencement Week
Exercises

One hundred fifteen students, the largest number in the history of the school, will end scholastic careers at Salem High this June, and receive diplomas at the annual commencement exercises, which will be held at the high school auditorium, Thursday, June 6.

The entire class of prospective graduates was passed on by the board of education at the recommendation of John S. Alan, superintendent, at the board's meeting last night. The provision was made, however, that each must have 16½ credits at the end of their eighth semester of school to meet state requirements, as final examinations will not be held until the latter part of this month and the first week in May.

End of School Near

Less than five weeks of school remain until the close of the present term. The Junior-Senior class prom will be held May 24th. The senior class farewell banquet is scheduled for June 4th, and the class reunion for Sunday, June 2nd, closing the term's activities.

School work will become a matter of history for the 115 students, 68 of whom are girls, and 49 boys, when they are taken into the Salem High School Alumni association at its annual banquet and exercises in honor of the graduating class on Friday following commencement exercises. Prospective graduates follow:

Mrs. Calvin Leasure, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Covert, sang solos, and a piano trio was contributed by Miss Lavonne Simpson, Mrs. J. W. Hendricks and Mrs. Frank Stouff.

Members of the Music club are giving special numbers in all the schools of the city this week.

Tuesday morning at the high school assembly Mrs. Charles Cornwell, Mrs. L. W. King and Mrs. James Hayden sang a group of Irish songs. They were in costume. Mrs. E. D. Byrd was the accompanist. Mrs. J. W. Hendricks gave a group of MacDowell selections and Mrs. Odoran sang, "Carmenita," accompanied by Mrs. Berry.

Mrs. J. W. Hundertmark and Mrs. L. D. Cessna were at the East Fourth school assembly and entertained with piano and vocal numbers.

HARRY F. SINCLAIR STARTS 3 MONTHS IN WASHINGTON PRISON

Millionaire Oil Operator, Turfman Arises Early
To Breakfast On Cereal, Bologna and Coffee;
Will Be Assigned to Task In Prison Today

Washington, May 7.—Harry F. Sinclair arose rather early this morning for breakfast—he sat down at six a. m. to be exact.

The menu was rather plain, considering—it was cereal, bologna, bread, coffee and sugar, to be exact.

And, once more to be exact, his table companions didn't quite compare socially with those who breakfasted with him only so late as yesterday morning at the palatial Sinclair estate at Great Neck, Long Island.

The millionaire oil operator and turfman is in jail—a "common jail" as the law describes it—paying at least a portion of the debt he contracted with society when he acquired a lease to the Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve in a manner which the United States Supreme Court described as highly fraudulent.

Starts 90-Day Sentence

Sinclair has started the service of his 90-day sentence for contempt of the senate which arose from his refusal to answer certain pertinent questions relative to his dealings with former secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall. Still pending against him, though on appeal, is a six-months sentence for alleged jury tampering when he went on trial for criminal conspiracy in connection with those dealings.

It was a far different Sinclair who marched into breakfast shortly after dawn this morning at Major William Peak's district jail from the jaunty man with the bulging face and the confident smile who had stood in the criminal branch of the local supreme court, and heard a Washington jury acquit him, of a far more serious charge. He was nervous and pale this morning and the felons, drunkards and vagrants who shared his mess hall didn't seem to add to his erstwhile assurance.

Cereal and Bologna

Also, as before indicated, the ex-ecutive of the oil industry, who was in the jail breakfast failed to compare at all favorably with what he has been accustomed to.

Cereal and bologna for breakfast, however, was just the start of a humiliating and heart-breaking day for the man who is rated as being (Continued on page 5)

RAILROAD WILL MEND CROSSING

Newgarden Improvement Listed Soon; Others Scheduled Later

Promise that the Newgarden st. Pennsylvania railroad crossing will be improved in the near future, was given by E. D. Flad, division engineer of the Pennsylvania, in a conference with Mayor Phil G. Hiddeson, in the latter's office this morning.

Flad, who visited the mayor with Harry Lutz, supervisor of telegraph and signaling of this division, stated that improvements of all crossings are contemplated, but that Newgarden will be placed on the program immediately.

The matter was brought before the officials by Hiddeson, who stressed the condition of the crossing, complaints being numerous from motorists who are forced to drive it daily.

The mayor and the railroad officials viewed possibilities of various improvement projects in the city, among them the elimination of the present gate system at crossings, and the substitution of a traffic light plan.

Flad stated he will communicate with P. J. Dean, president of city council, as to possibilities of installing the light system, and will bring the matter before the municipal body in its first meeting in June.

GERMANY GIVES CONDITIONS FOR ACCEPTING PLAN

Young Proposal Could

"NATION OBSTINATE" CHAIRMAN EXCLAIMS

England May Bear Brunt Of Sacrifice Under Suggestion

Paris, May 7.—Germany's conditions for acceptance of the young plan as the basis of a solution of the reparations problem were handed to the allied and American experts today by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank and chief of the German delegation.

The reservations stipulate:

- 1—Suppression of the recovery act.
- 2—Suppression of outside control of German finances under the Dawes plan.
- 3—Maintenance of the greater part of the transfer clause for the protection of German currency.
- 4—Means to allow Germany to increase her capacity to pay.

Conditions Are Written

The German conditions, which were in written form, were taken under consideration by the other experts.

Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee of experts, was said to have told the Allied Delegates:

"Germany can pay, but is obstinate."

It was reliably reported that the allied experts were "surprised and chagrined" over the written memorandum of Chairman Young explaining how he had reached the figures contained in his plan. This memorandum was handed in last night for study before the private conversations were renewed today.

The allies, it was said, had presumed that the figures of the Young Plan had been based upon an equitable cut in the mixed claims of the allies and the United States, but discovered otherwise.

Instead of making reductions all round, allied spokesmen claim that Chairman Young increased the American mixed claims by 14,000,000 marks and made new cuts in the allies' claims totaling 69,000,000 marks. It was understood that the (Continued on page 4)

GUILTY VERDICT FOLLOWS TRIAL

Steve George Accused of Second Offense In Liquor Case

Lisbon, May 7.—Steve George of Salem was found guilty following a trial in common pleas court No. 2 before Probate Judge Lodge Riddle on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor, filed against him by Deputy Sheriff George Harroff. Sentence will not be pronounced until later.

This is the second time George has been found guilty in the same court. After he was fined the first time and failed to make good his promise to pay, Harroff went into his place of business at Salem to inquire when he proposed to pay his fine.

Harroff then found more liquor, and brought the defendant to Lisbon, when a second charge was placed against him. He is now in the county jail in default of payment of the first fine and costs.

ESCAPED LEPER TAKEN IN OHIO

Man Has Been At Large For Nearly Two Years; Police Hesitate To Make Arrest

Cincinnati, O., May 7.—A fugitive from the government leper colony near Carrville, La., is in custody at a local hospital today, after having been at large nearly two years.

He is 55-year-old Henry Lammers, alias Henry Edwards Beck, ex-soldier and, at the time of his arrest employed in a drug store here as janitor, where he had worked for five months.

Carrville officials learned the whereabouts of their charge through an application Lammers had filed for pension papers.

BALLOON SETS NEW MARKS IN DISTANCE, TIME

Big Bag Covers Over 900 Miles; In Air For Over 43 Hours

FEARS FELT FOR DETROIT FLIERS

Detroit Entry Unheard Of; Believe Men Are Safely Down

Pittsburgh, May 7.—Widespread interest aroused by the possibility that the Detroit Times balloon, an entrant in the national balloon elimination races, had shattered existing distance and endurance records, turned to ever-growing anxiety today as the waning hours brought no word from or of the gas bag.

The Detroit Times, with E. J. Hill as pilot and Arthur G. Schlosser as aide, soared aloft from Pitt stadium here shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Eleven other balloons took off at the same time and all but the Detroit Times have definitely reported their whereabouts.

The latest report was the Navy No. 1 balloon, piloted by Lieut. Thomas W. G. Settle which landed on Prince Edward Island yesterday, having far surpassed the mileage record established by S. A. U. Samussen on July 4-5, 1927. The straightway distance from Pittsburgh to Charlottetown, P. E. I., Settle's landing place is slightly more than 900 miles.

Settle's gas bag also broke the endurance flight record with a total elapsed time of 43 hours and 18 minutes. The previous record was 26 hours and 45 minutes.

It was pointed out at headquarters of the National Aeronautic association here that Hill and Schlosser may have landed in an isolated or swampy section and are having difficulty in making their way to civilization.

Not Worried Over Fliers

Race officials expressed themselves as unworried over Hill and Schlosser, asserting both men were experienced balloonists and well able to take care of themselves.

Although it is generally conceded that the navy balloon has emerged victorious in the balloon races, the fact remains that determination of the ultimate winner must await a report from the Detroit Times.

County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk has not been fully advised by township trustees how many small bridges were damaged by the swollen streams last Thursday night, but this record is now being assembled.

State Highway crews under the direction of Supt. W. C. Neff of Lisbon are now at work on state highways where storm damage was reported. Traffic is now open on the East Liverpool-Wellsville road, but at one spot on the California hollow road in Liverpool township on the East Liverpool-Youngstown highway one way traffic is being maintained.

CONTRACT FOR REILLY SEATS LET BY BOARD

Canton Concern To Build Concrete Bleachers At Athletic Field

The contract for the construction of 1300 concrete bleacher seats at Reilly Stadium was awarded to the Melvin E. Lutz Construction company, of Canton, by the board of education at its meeting Monday night.

The company was given the contract through its low bid of $8,850. Work will start about Monday, May 27, following the close of the spring athletic schedule of Salem High.

Other bidders on the project were: John Auld, Salem, $10,841; Charles Shurtump, Youngstown, $9,648.

No action was taken towards the construction of a brick and concrete wall on the east side of the field by the board, the decision being made to delay it until it was ascertained whether it was financially possible to construct it this year.

Salem Concern Bids

A bid of the Salem Hardware, for the installation of plumbing equipment, for the new rest rooms at the stadium, for the amount of $926 was received.

The Lutz company constructed the present set of bleachers at the stadium, in a short period of time, last year, and was also awarded the contract for construction of the new Reilly grade school building.

The restrooms will be placed at the south end of the new addition, with ramps leading from the bleachers to each room. A storeroom for athletic equipment will also be built.

The south end addition will be 63 ft. 7½ inches long, and the west 66 ft. 10½ in. in length, and the entire structure, including the section built last year, will provide seating capacity of approximately 3,000.

A request of the senior class for permission to construct a permanent refreshment stand at a cost of $300 as a class memorial was held over for action at a future meeting.

Gould, inspector of steam vessels at this port, that there was no fighting among the crew, as had been reported in newspapers, and that the only disturbance was caused by a potato peeler and a brass polish-er, both assigned below deck. "The men were quickly quieted, Duffett said, and the passengers were unaware of any disorder.

Capt. Gould will continue his investigation of the eventful trip tomorrow.

A DOUBTFUL POLICY

Film producers are entitled to their own ideas concerning what is legitimate material for their productions. Their financial success testifies to the wisdom which they have shown in the past and the creation of platitudinous movies indicates that someone has great confidence in continued judicious selection.

Nothing included within the bounds of decency has escaped the often unflattering scrutiny of the camera and the approbation of the censors. Historical characters have been made to make their way across the two dimension stage, sometimes to their further glorification and occasionally to their historical ruin. All in all, they have been treated fairly and their depiction has been valuable as a spur to imagination.

It is a characteristic of the age that everything that has tinel on it shall be stripped at one time or another so that everyone may be positive that nothing is being paraded under false colors. The idea has reached its most odious possibilities in the work of the destructive bigraphers who have insisted that readers know that the men and women whom they have worshipped were but frail craft after all, that this one had a weakness for the bottle, that another one had an unsavory love affair and so on. It has been popular, because it has conformed with the attitude of the reader.

The film producer, through his directors, set about to remove the glamor from back-stage life in the theater. It was a good selling point. Idols were to be taken apart and the curious flocked to watch. They were enthusiastic, but, like the Romans watching the destruction of the Christians, their appetites were soon satiated and the continued spectacle became boring. Picture after picture has been produced ostensibly to convince the paying public that many of the things that it has been paying to see were fabrications of rather feeble structure, that the stage people who were glorified in their imaginations were, after all, human beings unexceptional in many cases, of arranging their own lives and abounding in faults which individuals in the audience did not consider admirable in themselves.

The people like to be fooled, according to a famous master of deception. He did not say that they like to be disillusioned. If there were no glitter, there would be less joy. Man must have his petty illusions, his pretty romances, his heroes and heroines to live happily.

What Others Say

THE DEBENTURE SHOULD BE DROPPED

Although the majority of the members of the senate committee on agriculture have stuck to the debenture feature of the farm relief bill in spite of the emphatic expression of disapproval by President Hoover, there is no visible reason to believe that it will be found in the measure after final passage. And it is unlikely that Senator Cawaway and other members of the upper house, who are vying the public time in a political play, have any real idea that they will get anywhere.

Chairman McNary of the committee made a significant statement when he decided that it would be vain to send the farm bill to the president without eliminating the debenture feature because to do so would be to invite a veto. And this practical acquiescence in the executive position becomes doubly impressive upon recollection of the position Mr. McNary has long held as a champion of farm relief and of the equalization fee, for which the debenture scheme was designed to be a substitute.

Even if the senate retains the debenture feature, the chance that the house will follow suit seems so remote as to be practically non-existent.

If congresses should send to the White House a measure fatally unacceptable to the president and the president should veto it, the farmers would know who to blame; and they wouldn't blame Mr. Hoover. The practical politicians in congress know that perfectly well.—Detroit Free Press.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, May 8

THIS is a time for steady activity and substantial growth gained through industry, patience and perseverance, according to the dominant place of Saturn, assisted to pleasantly unexpected degree by the force of Uranus with Mercury, Venus and Jupiter aiding and abetting. It is the time for claiming just rewards for work and fidelity, for dealing with elderly persons and institutions. Lands, machinery, mining, agriculture, inventions should thrive and bring contracts. New personal affairs should flourish, but be careful with correspondence.

Those whose birthday it is are assured of a year of returns for industry, patience and fidelity, with substantial recognition from elderly persons or institutions. It is a time for making new contracts and claiming just and suitable recompense as well as new arrangements. Personal affairs, bright happiness and be careful with writings. A child born on this day may be steady, industrious and clever in many lines, earning substantial rewards in life. It may be popular and happy.

There is a time when toil must be preferred, or joy, by mistimed fondness, is undone.—Young.

How to Lose Two Dozen Pounds of Fat

At the Same Time Gain in Physical Vigor and Youthfulness and Swiftly Possess a Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are tuned up and the pure, fresh blood circulating Nature's six life giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from Boiger & French, Flocking Drug Store, J. H. Lease Drug Co. or any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back. Adv. Free Press.

HEALTH DEPENDS ON CONTROL OF NERVES

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

It has been said that we are "fearfully and wonderfully made." It is indeed true if we were to study the brain and nervous system alone, we would find more remarkable things than the radio and all other amazing inventions and discoveries of modern times.

Between the brain and the spinal cord is a portion of the nervous system known as the "medulla oblongata," or brain stem. Without discussing other functions, one thing this region does is to regulate the nerves controlling the muscular coats of the blood vessels.

Let me see if I can make clear to you how important the function really is. You need not be a scientist to know that if it is to do its work the stomach must have more blood when it is full of food than it requires when empty. How is it to get that blood?

The nerve center in the medulla sends a message to the muscular coats of the blood vessels in the stomach lining. This message is an order as to it to get that blood.

It is important to govern our living in such a way as to have the nerve system well nourished and normal in function. Then every organ of the body will be supplied with exactly the quantities of blood needed for its immediate purposes. But this system of regulating the blood supply may be put out of order by abuse. For instance, the stomach may become congested and even seriously inflamed by reason of bad eating habits. When the blood vessels are habitually enlarged the normal regulation fails.

You must not think, however, that

MIDDLETON

Unusual interest centered in the closing-day exercises of the Middleton Friends' school held on Friday as invitations had been sent to 60 former students and teachers asking them to return to the old school for homecoming day which proved to be the 70th anniversary of its establishment.

Responding to this invitation were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirk and three children of Adena, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Edgerton of Wheeling; Mrs. Frank Williamson and daughter, Gladys of Alliance; Mrs. Alfred Warrington of Damascus; Mrs. Rebecca Cadwalader; Mrs. Eva Morlan, the Misses Mary, Annie and Myra Blackburn and Nellie Brown of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Brantingham, Mrs. Esther Holloway, Mrs. Edwin Rockwell, Mrs. Howard Holloway and son Warren, Mrs. Lindley Hall and daughter Mildred, and Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Edgerton of Winona.

A sumptuous basket dinner was served at noon with ice cream and cake.

The enrollment of Locust Knoll school this year was ten boys with an attendance for the eight months' term of 99.2%; two and one-half days of school were omitted for various reasons but the total number of absences for the year only amounted to twelve and one-half days. Prizes were given by the teacher for a perfect record (neither absent or tardy) for the last half-year; these went to Alfred and William Cope, Albert Binns, Robert and Morris Kirk and Wilmer Cooper. Robert Kirk holds a perfect record for the year. The boys presented their teacher with a fountain pen.

The afternoon program consisted of reading, recitations, Scripture songs, memory gems in concert, a dialogue, the old poem, "The Burial of Moses," recited by five of the boys assisted by eight of the patrons and friends, and a talk by Mrs. Alfred Warrington (a former teacher) who spoke on James Whitcomb Riley. In addition, most of the guests responded with recitations or short talks reviewing their own school days.

Messages were read from Jessie B. Jones of West Branch, Iowa; Dr. E. T. Kirk of Media, Pa.; Anna Kirk of Battle Creek, Mich.; Anna B. Starbuck of Colerain, Ohio; Milton Hall and Anna F. Hall of Barnesville; Ellen Morlan of Damascus; and original poems from Mary Henderson of Paulina, Iowa; and Deborah C. Battey of Salem, Ohio. Mrs. Battey spent a number of years teaching in this school, giving up the work about 39 years ago; having poor health, she was unable to attend the home-coming but eleven of her former pupils were present on Friday.

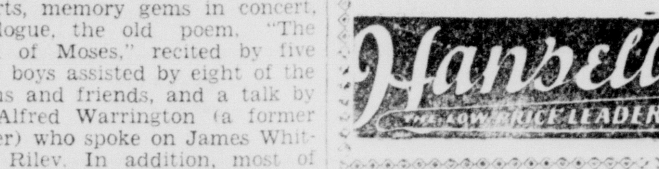

A committee was appointed to prepare a history of the school for the purposes of record.

BEETHAM MAY FILE CHARGES

Strikes Back at Officials For Actions In Dry Case

Columbus, O., May 7.—While the Buckeye State tossed in slumberland last night, Ohio's prohibition scandal flared up anew with a mighty statewide "boom", following threats made by State Prohibition Commissioner R. R. Beetham that he would require four high county and city officials at Lancaster to show cause why they should not be removed from office for failure to enforce the state prohibition laws.

The quarter hit by Beetham's threatened impeachment darts are County Prosecutor Russell Cunningham, Mayor R. U. Hastings, Chief of Police Henry Wallace, and Sheriff Gail Sessler, all of Lancaster. They have been ordered to appear for an open conference at the commissioner's office this afternoon. Possible results are:

A shake-up in the state prohibition office with the dismissal of Ed Little and John O. Cole, suspended state dry agents, who admittedly used two high school girls as decoys in obtaining evidence against alleged liquor law violators at Lancaster.

The realization of Beetham's threat and the filing of charges against the four Lancaster officials with Gov. Myers V. Cooper, asking that they be removed from office.

Disclosure of "startling information" concerning activities of Ed Little and John O. Cole by Russell Cunningham, prosecutor at Lancaster, which, he says, he obtained from Mrs. Crystal Getz, 23-year-old Logan divorcee.

And fourthly, nothing.

The last, will probably be the result of the conference, most close observers of the case predict.

"FEEL BETTER THAN I HAVE IN LONG TIME"

Dairyman, Sixty-Five Years of Age, Adds His Praise To Powers Of Konjola

"I didn't realize what a wonderful medicine Konjola was until I tried it," said Mr. John F. Peckens, Route 4, Ashtabula.

The stomach troubles have disappeared, by kidneys act as they should and the rheumatism has left me. My entire system has been cleansed of all poisons and impurities. I will never miss an opportunity to praise Konjola."

The discussions today dealt with the German reservations and the disposition of profits from the proposed International Reparation Bank.

When today's conversations began five nations—America, England, Italy, Japan and Germany—were leaning towards the Young Plan as the best means of settling the reparation issue. France and Belgium were withholding their decisions.

Before he could be extricated clouds of steam enveloped and fatally scalded him. The fireman jumped to safety.

TWO-YEAR FEUD SHOOTING CAUSE
Men Were Once Partners in Oil Enterprise; Fatal Wounds Inflicted Friday

Steuersville, O., May 7.—Richard Wright, 40, is being held in Brooke County, W. Va., on a charge of murder. It was learned here today, following the death of J. L. Elliott, 45, of Wellsburg, who was shot through the lung last Friday.

The shooting, according to official reports, occurred at Wright's home near Pullman, W. Va., and was the culmination of a two-year feud between the two men. The men were partners in oil well drilling.

SINCLAIR
with anywhere from 1/2 to a hundred-million dollars.

After breakfast, came the painful business of being fingerprinted and having a revolver set down in police records. One who has "done a stretch" in the penitentiary has no qualms about the matter and pressed him on the tell-tale card was an ambusher of parts who now holds an important position in the jail.

To Interview Major
The next step in this red-letter day of penal servitude was to be an interview by Major Peake with the distinguished prisoner. On the morning of this conversation the prisoner's exact status for the next ninety days, Peake will undertake to ascertain just what the old magazine is best fitted for in the way of occupational activity and then assign him. If there is an opening in the office, Sinclair undoubtedly will get it, for his record as a financier is impressive. If there is not, the 10,520th prisoner will be taken in during the current fiscal year may get a hospital assignment. A third condition might have been his removal to the work camp at Occoquan, Va., although that is not likely.

Franklin Major Peake is a little thingy over where he should place himself. One vacancy is about to be filled by one with stenographic ability. Fascinatingly, it was suggested this morning the million-dollar man be taken to Occoquan and sentenced to drill an oil well.

Taxi Driver Held

SOCIETY PLANS SCIENCE CENTER

Will Promote Learning And Research Among Its Members

Philadelphia, May 7.—Finishing its labors in tracing mankind from the dim mists of a million years ago to the present and predicting super men, both mentally and physically in the not too distant future, the leader of the American Philosophical Society has decided to guide man in pursuit of his destiny from a center of science and culture located in Philadelphia.

This was decided at the closing session of the annual general conference here of the society which boasts its origin in the "Junio" formed by Benjamin Franklin in 1773.

The Society's small historic 140-year old structure located on the Independence Square, here, where the Declaration of Independence was read publicly for the first time is to be exchanged with the city for a site at 16th street and the Parkway. A $1,000,000 palace of science with a $1,250,000 endowment fund will be erected on the new site.

To Promote Learning
Dr. Harlow Shapley, the Harvard astronomer, who discovered the center of the universe, projected this new cultural center for "mankind advancing" and announced it at the dinner following the three days of discussion of mankind his past and future.

Authoritative news of forward steps in all branches of learning, and the views for the future will come from this new Philosophical Hall which will be a living tribute to Franklin Dr. Shapley said.

The Society was patterned after the Royal Society of London. Its purpose today as it was 200 years ago is the "promotion of useful knowledge." At present the society is engaged in a much discussed "intellectual stocktaking," or a summing up of the intellectual needs of the country.

Jefferson President
Fifteen members of the Society were signers of the Declaration of Independence while 18 were framers of the constitution.

Thomas Jefferson, the third president of the Society, left the original longhand draft of his famous document and the broadsword chair on which it was written to the Society. He was president of the organization for 18 years during eight of which he was also president of the United States.

The Society also retains the original undated field notes of the Lewis and Clark expedition; a library of 30,000 volumes, including some of the most valuable collections of scientific documents and papers in existence and Franklin's battery and his first electrical machine.

In addition to Jefferson, the other members of the Society to hold the highest office in the land were George Washington, John Adams, James Madison, John Quincy Adams, James Buchanan, Ulysses S. Grant, Woodrow Wilson and Herbert Hoover. Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft, were elected to the Society after they became president.

Cab Kills Man
Cincinnati, O., May 7.—Norbert Deimlein was struck and fatally injured by a taxicab.

Roosevelt Field N. Y.—If Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh ever move, perhaps it will be by airplane. The colonel has had a bit of experience along that line. He watched when 20 planes took hangar and other equipment from Curtiss field in the new Curtiss headquarters at Valley Stream.

PEKING'S GLORY DECLINING FAST SINCE UPRISING

Imperial City Passing With Trend of Times; But a Skeleton

New York, May 7.—The imperial city of Peking is on the wane and is rapidly becoming of less importance in the national life of China. Once the heart of China, Peking is rapidly becoming a skeleton of the Peking as it was then known, where imperial families ruled for thousands of years.

With the removal of the capital to Nanking on the Yangtze River, Peking is fast assuming the general aspect of a museum. The streets where the gaiety of a capital city once held sway are now desolate. The exotic buildings, the brain children of famous Oriental architects are untenanted and the splendor of the Forbidden City, veiled to the eyes of foreigners, is now seldom viewed by even the Chinese.

This is the picture brought back from China by Professor Edward S. Corwin, of Princeton University, upon his return here from a lecture tour in China. He spent four and a half months on a traveling fellowship sponsored by the Carnegie Foundation.

Boxer Rebellion

Like the downfall of Rome, military ascendancy began the fall of Peking. Almost three decades ago the Boxer Rebellion brought the intervention of foreign troops and the upheaval of the imperial government. Chaos then reigned in the land of Confucius. Bandit leaders throughout the country organized "armies" and took on the title of "general."

Away from the confusion of the north, disaffected radicals in Canton—adherents of Sun Yat-sen, formed the Kuomintang Party, placed Chiang Kai-shek, brilliant young military leader, at the head of it; and revolted against the northern government.

With the removal of the government to the city at the foot of Socony Hill, where only a year before foreigners were outraged and killed by warring Chinese troops, the glamour of Peking went too.

Foreign Protest

Foreigners murmured in protest at the prospect of residing in a dingy city bordering on the mudflats of the Yangtze while the natives of Peking were momentarily stunned by the thought. That the capital would be taken away from Peking, where it had been for countless years, was unthinkable to the tradition-steeped Chinese.

As a result Peking is fast losing its cosmopolitan aspect and the constant stream of camel trains entering the city from the Gobi Desert and beyond the Great Wall give the lie to the magnificent edifices erected during the reign of a glorious empire.

Gone is the gaiety of the Legation Quarter. Its successor at Nanking is strictly business-like. All China has felt the change. Only in the inaccessible districts of the interior are the encroachments of western civilization not felt.

Salem High Defends Columbiana County Track Title Saturday

Weak Red And Black Squad Prepares To Defend Championship

Successful in its defense of off-won county basketball and football championships, despite the forced deviation from the customary "wonder" teams which have become quite proverbial with Salem High athletics, the Red and Black braces its cleats against the wall once more, when the county schools invade Reilly Stadium in attempts to wrest the track title from this city, Saturday.

Salem has a great chance to cop the honors again, this week, but so have the other schools a big opportunity to carry the laurels away to their own trophy cabinet. The coming meet is the most unusual occurring in the past five years, for in many ways it looks mighty bad for the thin-clads being tutored for the event by Coaches Springer and Ruffner, and at the same time, it appears that they have a mighty even break for the title again.

Liverpool is out, as far as the competition is concerned, and this means a big help to the Red and Black's opportunities. But other enemies threaten so much to split the points of the meet, that it is almost impossible to concede the Red and Black the upper hand. It looks like they might even race from start to finish.

Last year, fans will probably recall, Liverpool was conceded an even chance to cop the title, but when points were tallied after the final race it was found that Salem had once again won by a gigantic margin, scoring 64 points, almost as many as the next three, Wellsville came second with 25 and Liverpool was third with 21, Palestine coming fourth with 17.

The year before it was the same story, but it is almost a certainty that the event this weekend will provide a variation from this habit of the Springers. They may win, but it won't be with a total of 64.

George Thompson, Starter

George Thompson, former Indiana athlete of fame, will again handle the trigger of the starting gun, the meet being under the supervision of D. M. "Davey" Williams, Girard High coach, who refereed the past two county and district meets with success. Other officials are:

Judges—J. H. Getz, Girard; H. L. Wagner, Warren; K. L. Soller, Youngstown; G. L. Wheeler, Warren; C. E. Felton, Lisbon; A. E. Whitacre, Alliance. Scorer—Fred K. Schuller, Salem; Timers and inspectors—W. H. Mathews, Salem; Labor, East Palestine, Rev. Post, Wellsville, and R. S. Coplock, Alliance.

Cleverest Welter Copies Tricks From Youthful Ideal

JACKIE FIELDS

LIKE all boxers, Jackie Fields, proclaimed welterweight champ by the National Boxing commish, has followed an ideal all through his years of fighting. Jackie believes there never was a boxer like Packey MacFarland.

The story is that Packey once accepted an offer to set-to with Bat Nelson on a Chicago stage, Packey, the unknown from the stockyards, threw more gloves in Nelson's direction than that bewildered "Bat" believed had been made. Right then and there Nelson asked his manager, Nolan, to sign Packey up, figuring if they were with the same man, they would never fight. Even though Packey was too wise for this move, they never fought.

His example, naturally, was the talk of the boys of the Chicago stockyards, and they all tried to match his speed and cleverness. Jackie Fields was seven when Packey fought his last fight, but as a member of the stockyards gang, the youngster picked up all this knowledge. After moving to Los Angeles he came under the guiding hand of George Blake of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and won the Olympic featherweight championship the same year that La Barba won the flyweight class.

Jackie is a good competitor. The tougher the going the better he likes it. No fooling round for him. He just hustles right in to get it over with. Modest of his own ring-work, he is still trying to reach what he calls perfection, the cleverness of Packey MacFarland.

Springer Named Again For Post Of Athletic Director; Stone Coach

Salem High's 1928-29 coaching staffs remain intact for the 1929-30 season, with the election of all present members for another term of office by the board of education, at its meeting last night.

Wilbur J. Springer, principal and athletic director; Floyd W. Stone, head football and basketball coach; Miss Anne Oelschlager, director of girls' athletic activities, and J. Morgan Ruffner, assistant coach in each of the three main athletics, were all reappointed by the board by unanimous vote.

Next year will mark the second year at the Red and Black for three of the quartet, Miss Oelschlager, and Messrs. Stone and Ruffner. Each inaugurated their services at Salem with successful athletic seasons, Stone and Ruffner leading the football and basketball teams to county titles, while Miss Oelschlager's sextet finished well up in the running.

Stone came here from Nelsonville, where he attained quite a reputation as athletic mentor having coached the small southeastern Ohio school to its first winning football and basketball teams in some time. In football during his first season as head of Red and Black coaching responsibilities, his team annexed the county title, with nine wins in 11 starts, and repeated in basketball, with 13 victories and seven setbacks.

At the present time he is introducing baseball into the school schedule, and the team already has won three contests and lost one. Miss Oelschlager was former athletic head of the Y. W. C. A. at Lima, and has been responsible for several progressive movements at Salem High, among them the organization of the Hi-Tri club, sponsoring of both boys' and girls' inter-class basketball, and now hopes to get the effeminate sex interested in track and baseball.

Her cagers took opponents for nine wins, were on the short end of the count on four occasions, and had one tie game.

Ruffner has done quite a bit towards rounding out the winning Red and Black aggregations, and now is working with Springer in making preparations for the county meet this Saturday. He tutored the reserves in football and basketball, and formed a formidable looking bunch of under-classesmen, who will probably be ready next season to step into varsity berths.

Springer started at Salem High as coach in 1922, and in his reign

Valuable Player Award Is Dropped

Cleveland, May 7.—The practice of naming a "most valuable player in the American League" at the close of each season will be discontinued this year, it was announced today, following a meeting of the League's club owners here yesterday.

The action of Mickey Cochrane, catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, who won the award last year, is said to have been chiefly responsible for the decision to discontinue the award.

Cochrane demanded a higher salary this year than last. The club owners contended that the award gave the winner an exaggerated idea of his importance, and promoted jealousy among the players.

Lucky Strikes alone are toasted because toasting is a secret process. 20,679 physicians definitely state that toasting removes impurities. Weak Women Should Read This

Men do not understand why women are so subject to occasional weakness and often real illness. The housewife often forces herself to go through a day's work when if her husband felt as miserable he would be in bed with the doctor at his bedside.

Much of this suffering is entirely unnecessary. A great deal of it is due to catarrh in the system—quite often unknown. The same mucous membrane as exists in the nose and throat lines all other cavities of the body and is subject to the same catarrh, with all its weakening effects. Thousands of women and girls endorse this tonic.

The manufacturers of World's Tonic have many grateful letters from women who through the use of this remarkable new medicine have been relieved of weaknesses such as stomach, liver, kidney and bowel trouble and have gained strength to attend to their duties cheerfully and well.

World's Tonic has done this because it helps conquer catarrh, strengthens bodily functions and restores vigor and strength.

Women who suffer will find it a great friend. It can be obtained for $1.00 a bottle of J. H. Lease and other good druggists. (A-102). Adv.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

They're beginning to pour into the market now—strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, currants, gooseberries. Can you tell top quality at a glance? Here are a few ways:

First, they should look firm and whole and just ripe—neither too much nor too little.

Strawberries should have their hulls on. In fact, wash them with the hulls on, for as soon as they are removed, juice and flavor leak away.

However, all other berries should be boxed without hulls. If you see blackberries or raspberries, etc. with their hulls, it's because the fruit was picked before it was ripe. When fully ripened, and ready to eat, all berries (except strawberries) slip off the stem minus their hulls.

Second, don't buy any box of berries if the box is stained. That means that below the top surface, no matter how whole and fresh that layer may appear—there are crushed decayed berries.

Third, choose berries according to how you mean to prepare them. For service raw, the large berries are best, and if they are so perfectly ripened that they are sweet enough to eat without sugar, so much the better. However, if you wish them for preserving or cooking, a smaller berry with less sweetness will do.

Strawberries should be a bright red color. If they are tinged with white or green they are not ripe enough to eat. The cleaner the berry the better, and excessively sandy berries are hardly worth buying, as they require too much soaking to clean well.

Strawberries are at their best served raw, flavor and texture being then at their best. But all the other berries can be treated in other ways. Currants, raspberries, blackberries can be cooked, used as pie filling, served plain stewed, or serve as a sauce for hot or cold puddings. And gooseberries, of course, are only edible when cooked. Gooseberries should not be too green, but rather a pale yellow or amber color, and the larger they are the better. There is so much skin in comparison with pulp in the small berry.

Wash berries by placing in a bowl of cold water, leaving them for a few moments and then lifting out with a large serving fork. In this way whatever sand or bits of leaf or twig that may be in the box will drop to the bottom of the pan and will lift out only the clean fruit. If possible, serve berries without sugar. Add cream if desired. If fruit is not quite good enough to serve raw and whole, a delicious fruit soup may be made which is very refreshing on a hot day. Raspberries, blackberries, currants, or cherries may be used.

Fruit Soup
Add one-quarter cup of cold water to a box of cleaned berries. Simmer slowly until tender. Then force through a colander. Set this liquid aside to cool, then place in refrigerator to chill. Just before serving, add one cup of whipped sweet cream. Or, what is even more refreshing, add one cup of thick sour cream (not whipping this, of course, or you'd get butter!).

When making a shortcake of any of the berries, a pleasant change of flavor is to add some of the berries to the whipped cream. A few mashed strawberries, added to whipped cream, sugar and a little vanilla, identify the strawberry flavor, and give a pleasant pink color to the cake as well.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

"What's the catch?" I looked forward to summer cooking because I'd have light meals and less fuss, and I find I'm spending more time than ever in the kitchen since the first warm day," complains a young housekeeper.

No mystery about it. Plenty of fresh fruits in the market. With a commendable desire to serve lots of groovy things, she fills her market bag with good foods that require lots of preparation. Who could resist a fragrant fresh pineapple? Crisp radishes and carrots? Bunches of fat asparagus? Fresh peas and strawberries, cabbage and squash and so on. Everything looks bright and wholesome, and we think how easy it is to be a vegetarian.

It isn't easy for the cook. One has to serve more kinds of vegetables for a strictly vegetarian meal, because there's less substance and more water to vegetables than to meat dishes. And it is more trouble to peel and slice vegetables than to shove a steak under the broiler. Still, a good deal of the work involved in preparing vegetables for the table can be dispensed with if the right tools and methods are used.

No need to have a complete arsenal of cutlery. Just four or five of the right tools will make a world of difference.

To begin with, have a huge enamel tub for washing vegetables. Let water cover them and soak. Then the first job, washing, is cut down.

Have a medium sized, thick-handled, sharp knife for cutting coarse vegetables like beets, cabbage, carrots, turnips. Also, remember that it's easier to peel after slicing some shapes of vegetables. That is also true of pineapple. If you intend serving pineapple in slices, cut first and peel afterward. If you peel thickly there will be no eyes to Paris, May 7. — Personality will appear in the brim of one's bonnet this spring according to the French modistes who are showing that brims are now playing a most important role, even when they appear only at the sides.

For this reason, it is most essential when trying on a new hat, to study it from every possible angle.

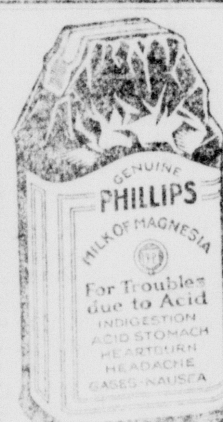

Few, if any of the new clothes, have brims which are not irregularly shaped and a favorite model is the one which rises over one eyebrow and hides the other.

Coarse paillasson for a charming hat with the brim upturned sharply over the face and falling in a sweep on the left side, is shown and one designer makes a supple red felt cloche with distinctly new brim drooping around the face. It will be ideal for the races where the eyes need protection.

Apart from the new cloche shapes, the majority of the new hats tend to show a large expanse of the forehead.

The little Basque beret which the famous Blue Devils introduced to America during war-days, is now taking the place of the smart felt sports hat for golf and motor on the Riviera, and promises to be the most popular outing bonnet at all summer resorts.

It comes in all colors, sometimes of soft felt and sometimes in chenille, and is fastened in such a way that when not in use it is covered and swung out of sight under the chin. When preparing vegetables, however, keep it open and peel directly into it. That saves the accumulation in the sink for even a few moments. And the less you handle vegetable waste, the less trouble the whole job is.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because it is harmless, tasteless and neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention 20 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875. Adv.

BABIES GAIN BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Doctors say, souring waste in baby's digestive tract is usually back of any failure to gain weight according to schedule. And the best proof, this is true, is the quick way, weak, fretful, puny babies improve when you cleanse their stomach and bowels and put them in order with a few doses of purely vegetable, pleasant-tasting Fletcher's Castoria. This gentle, harmless preparation is the doctor's first thought to relieve those ills of babies and children, such as colic, gas, constipation, diarrhea, colds, etc. Just be sure you get genuine Castoria in the bottle that bears the Fletcher signature.

Persons who want any thing know that The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.
